1. Kassiopi: A Picturesque Haven on the Emerald Coast

On the northeastern tip of Corfu, Kassiopi welcomes visitors with its picturesque harbor, lined with colorful fishing boats and charming tavernas. As Marilyn Chin writes in her poem "Kassiopi":

"Kassiopi, a splash of paint / on the emerald coast. / The boats sway in the harbor, / under the watchful eyes of Poseidon."

Kassiopi's medieval fortress, perched on a hilltop overlooking the harbor, offers panoramic views of the surrounding landscape. Visitors can also venture into the village's narrow, cobbled streets, where they will find quaint shops, traditional restaurants, and friendly locals.

2. Acharavi: A Coastal Oasis on the Ionian Sea

Just south of Kassiopi lies the seaside village of Acharavi, renowned for its long stretch of sandy beach. Marilyn Chin's poem "Acharavi" transports us to this idyllic setting:

"Acharavi, where the waves break / on the sandy shore. / The sun dances on the water, / a shimmering, silver ball."

Acharavi offers a tranquil ambiance, making it an ideal destination for relaxation and sunbathing. Visitors can also explore the village's vibrant nightlife, with a variety of bars and restaurants to choose from.

3. Roda: A Historic Village with a Rich Past

Further south along the coast, we encounter the historic village of Roda. Its ancient origins are evident in its ruins and artifacts, dating back to the Roman and Byzantine periods.

Marilyn Chin's poem "Roda" evokes the village's rich past:

"Roda, the whispers of history / echo through the stones. / The ruins speak of a glorious past, / of emperors and battles long gone."

Visitors to Roda can immerse themselves in the village's history at the local folklore museum, or explore the archaeological site of ancient Othoni, just a short boat ride away.

4. Sidari: A Seaside Paradise with Unique Rock Formations

On the northwestern coast of Corfu lies the popular seaside resort of Sidari. This vibrant destination is known for its breathtaking Canal d'Amour, a narrow channel between two rock formations. According to local legend, swimming through the channel will bring eternal love.

In her poem "Sidari," Marilyn Chin captures the allure of this enchanting place:

"Sidari, where the sea whispers / secrets to the rocks. / The Canal d'Amour, a lovers' dream, / where hearts intertwine beneath the moon's gaze."

Sidari offers a range of water sports and activities, making it a great
